READ

REDINGTON EMPLOYABILITY ACADEMY FOR DEVELOPMENT (READ) is the CSR program of Redington Foundation for CSR in Education. The objective of this CSR initiative is to help the nation leverage its demographic advantage of the young population by creating employable graduates for a vibrant workforce that can help India become a global leader in the years to come.

Project READ aims to equip graduates from lower socio-economic groups for various types of industries through structured training programs in business communication and personality development. The training under project READ is free of charge for the participants. The methodology is participative teaching with interactive, activity based learning modules.

UNIQUENESS OF REDINGTON CSR:

- Regular assessment to ensure that the trainees focuses oriented and quick learners.
- we focus on a holistic development of each individual.
- We have emphasized on bringing a transformation in our trainees from within.
- We enable the student for a professional transition by dividing training in their locations.
- Our domain training provides the employers and the trainees to be specific on the needs and requirements.
- We aim at bringing a notable difference in the lives of the economically challenged rural dwellers.
